SCHOLARSHIP REQUIREMENTS

---

REQUIREMENTS ▼

Students are expected to maintain a GPA consistent with the Standard of Academic Progress (see Federal Aid requirements). Failure to do so may jeopardize scholarships that have been awarded. Students are expected to meet all of their financial obligations to Word of Life.

HOW TO APPLY ▼

All students are considered for scholarships based on the answers provided on their scholarship applications. Students should complete applications in full prior to returning them to the Financial Aid Office. If you have any questions regarding scholarship applications, contact the Financial Aid Office (1.800.331.9673 or Finaid@wol.org). Incomplete applications will not be considered. Students are not considered for scholarships without submitting an application.

DISTRIBUTION ▼

As a general rule, scholarships are divided equally to each payment period with limited exceptions.

ELIGIBILITY ▼

Students who meet the scholarship criteria are awarded funds as they are available. The Financial Aid Office will review scholarship applications and distribute awards based on: the availability of funds, whether the scholarship criterion has been met, the most significant need, and the order in which the scholarships were received.

DEADLINES ▼

Unless otherwise noted, the deadline for completed FAFSA documentation and the general scholarship application is May 31, 2016. Scholarship Applications cannot be processed until the FAFSA is completed. Because some scholarships have limited funding, applications received by this deadline will receive preferred funding status. Applications received after the deadline and/or funding has expired may be declined.

FEDERAL AID REQUIREMENTS - READ CAREFULLY ▼

Shortly after registration, student accounts will be charged for room, board, tuition, and fees. Institutional scholarships will be credited at that time. Pell Grant and Loan disbursements are posted as funds are received from the Department of Education. Students should make every effort to complete the FAFSA well in advance of registration to ensure that Federal funds (e.g. Pell Grants and Stafford/PLUS Loans) arrive promptly. If awarded aid is not posted on the monthly statement, the Financial Aid Office should be contacted immediately.

LOAN COUNSELING ▼

Federal regulation requires that students who take out a Federal Stafford Loan complete both entrance and exit loan counseling. The entrance counseling must be completed before any loan disbursements can be credited to the student's account. The exit counseling serves to inform students about repayment of their loan. If loan repayment is not managed properly, the student can go into default which will affect their credit rating, eligibility for further financial aid, and may result in garnishment of wages and future tax refunds. These counseling sessions inform the student of his/her rights and responsibilities as a borrower.

STANDARD ACADEMIC PROGRESS ▼

Students who receive Federal Title IV Aid (e.g. Pell Grant and/or Federal Loans) must maintain a GPA consistent with the Standard of Academic Progress (SAP). A student must also successfully complete ("D" or better in each course) the clock hours in a payment period in order to progress to the next period and be eligible for additional Title IV funds. SAP is evaluated after successful completion of 15 weeks of coursework for freshmen students. A student progressing as a sophomore will be evaluated at 30 weeks and again at 45 weeks. Please see the student handbook for additional details. A student whose cumulative GPA falls below the Standard of Academic Progress will lose their right to receive further Federal Title IV Aid. A student may regain this privilege by raising their GPA in a subsequent period. In this case, a Stafford or PLUS Loan may be applied retroactively for the prior period which the grades improved. A Pell Grant may not be reinstated retroactively.

DISCLOSURES ▼

- All schools operate their Financial Aid processes differently. Please be sure to follow all instructions and recommendations as outlined in our Financial Aid material in order to achieve the smoothest process possible.
- Institutional scholarships may not exceed the cost of Room/Board, Tuition, and Fees.
- Students who receive financial aid will be sent an Award Letter. The Award Letter details how much aid is being applied to each semester.
